

Attention all Businesses!
Join the Supply Chain Today.

Every type and size of local business from sole trader to SME is encouraged to sign up to this free service to "Supply the Supplier", so make yourself known, use the link below to self register or call our office and speak to the Project team.

How could the project help your business?

The Bridgewater Chamber of Commerce is keen to build strong relationships with companies behind the major projects that are underway in the area and not Hinkley Point C related.

We want to work with the companies during the construction phase and beyond.

By registering your business details on our supply chain portal, we can promote your business to them. This is a free service.

We never know what requests we might have in the future so we urge you to sign up to enable us to promote your skills and services.

Will I be successful in gaining work from these new developments?

Naturally you will be in competition with others for the work on offer. However, our project can signpost you to other local business and organisations that will support you with your growth and development to take advantage of these new opportunities.

To be successful in a changing environment a business must be able to respond quickly by having a flexible attitude and a positive manner. Our many free networking events can widen your network of new business partners and therefore possible business opportunities in a relaxed and friendly environment.

Our website gives information on the progress of local developments, so you can be well informed of possible opportunities and what is happening in the area.

Once registered with us you will receive regular news updates via email as well as information about our latest networking events.

Did you know that the local economy is predicted to grow by 45% by 2030?
